How to Play Funky Time — Every Bet and Bonus Game

> How to play Funky Time in one line: before the timer ends, put chips on the Number 1, on any of the twelve letters, or on Bar, Stayin' Alive, Disco or VIP Disco; the presenter spins the 64-segment wheel, and whatever segment stops under the flapper wins — times a multiplier if one landed there.

The full guide, a free practice round and the bonus: funkytimeresult.in/how-to-play/

How one round works

1. Bets open. A countdown runs (in the Classic view, traffic lights go green, then yellow, then red). Pick a chip — 10, 50, 100, 200, 500 or 2,500 — and tap the spots.
2. Bets close, the wheel spins. At the same moment multipliers are generated and attached to random segments.
3. The flapper stops on one segment. A chip on that spot wins; every other chip is lost.
4. A bonus segment starts its bonus game. All players watch; only chips on that bonus spot are in it.
5. Payouts land on your balance, and the next betting window opens.

At a glance

bet spot	segments	pays	at most
1	28	1:1	50:1
a letter	2	25:1	1,250:1
Bar	6	bonus game	₹5 crore
Stayin' Alive	2	bonus game	₹5 crore
Disco	3	bonus game	₹5 crore
VIP Disco	1	bonus game	₹5 crore

Questions people ask

How many segments does the Funky Time wheel have? 64 — 28 of them carry the 1, 24 carry letters and 12 open a bonus game.

Can I bet on several spots in one round? Yes. Any mix of the 1, letters and bonus spots, within the table limit of ₹10 to ₹2,50,000.

Do I need to play the bonus game myself? Only in Bar and Stayin' Alive, where you pick a glass or a colour; in Stayin' Alive a colour is picked for you if the time runs out. Disco and VIP Disco run on their own.

Does the demo use the real Funky Time odds? The segment counts are the real ones. Multipliers, glass values, balls and floor values are our model, set to return a little under the rules' RTP.

Does the demo pay out real money? Never — it only moves practice credits.

Why did a bonus segment land without a bonus game? Only chips on that bonus spot play it — the same rule as the live show. Put a chip on the bonus, or use All Bonuses, to play them all.
